WILSON SEES NATION IN NEXT WORLD WAR IN NEXT WORLD

Neutrals' Position in Great Conflict Intolerable, He Says.

FEARS NO TRADE FIGHT

Tells Cincinnati Crowds He Would Enter a War for Rights of Mankind.

Cincinnati, Oct. 26.—Taking advantage of a visit to Cincinnati to discuss the relation of the United States to the European conflict, President Wilson de-clared to-day that "This is the last war that the Government of the United States that involves the world, that the United has not the spirit of other governments States can keep out of." He gave as his which is to put the force, the army and navy, of that government behind investreason his belief that "The business of neutrality is over," and that "War now has such a scale that the position of neu-trais sooner or later becomes intolerable."

"The nations of the world must get together and say. Nobody can hereafter be neutral as respects the disturbance of the world's peace for an object which the world's peace for an object which the world's opinion cannot sanction,"

"The world's peace ought to be dis-turbed if the fundamental rights of hu-After denying the Republican claim that the prosperity of the United States, during the last two years has been due to trade created by the war, the President ridiculed predictions that after the war Curope will overwhelm this nation by its Europe will overwhelm this nation by its economic strength and "dump" into the United States goods now being stored up for that purpose. He added: "Our great means of defence are that we have taken pains to have all the instrumentalities to find out exactly what is going on and to be out exactly what is going on, and to be ready to act immediately we find that it is necessary to defend ourselves." The crowds which packed the streets for blocks filled windows along streets through which he moved and crowded the halls in which he spoke, cheering the President almost continuously.

Talks to Women's Club.

In his afternoon speech here to-day sfore the Women's Club the President "You know that I began that academic career, to which so many unpleas-ant references are nowadays made, as teacher in a woman's college. I taught "After all, the real problem of this untry is to make a community of it, to get the civic spirit the same the civic spirit the spirit the civic spirit the spirit the civic spirit the civic spirit the spirit the civic spirit the spirit the civic spirit the civic country is to make a community of it, is to get the civic spirit the same from one side of the continent to the other, and not only the spirit the same, but the conscientious purpose the same.

"I say that I have been distressed because apparently the point of these predictions was that this war of arms was going to be followed by another sort of contest based in a radical economic rivairy which would breed deeper antagonisms than the antagonisms of actual force. You know what has happened in countries like our own beloved country. The feeling between North and South in this country did not arise out of the war, out of the fighting. It arose out of the political measures that followed the war.

"For one thing, it is predicted that after this war is over. Europe will in some going to ship to us and dump on us when the war is over. Have they ever seen a war? Have they any imaginations? Have they any conception of what this war means? Do they not know that the population that is not in the field is bent in all its concentrated energy upon one thing, namely, sustaining those who are in the field?

"And are they now creating dyestuffs to ruin our markets? Are they producing the things that they have ordinarily sent to America in such abundance while they are in this death grapple that they are thinking of over-grapple that they are thinking of over-whelming America?

Sympathy for War Victims.

"Why, my friends, we ought not to turn to these people in fear, but in sympathy. We ought to realize that after this exhaustion they will need us, and that we need not fear them.

"It will be America's opportunity, but it will be her opportunity to do something very much greater than that, for in the meantime look at the situation of the United States.

"The United States has had an industrial and manufacturing revival in the last two years such as it never experienced before, and when men imagine that this is due to the trade created by the war they are merely imagining it, because they have not read the facts.

"If you take the figures of our commerce, donestic and foreign included, you will find that the foreign commerce, even upon the most mudest reckoning of even upon the most modest reckoning of our domestic commerce, does not equal 4 per cent, of the total, and the exports in munitions, and not merely in munitions but in everything that goes to supply armies—draft animals automo-bile trucks, food directly intended for hile trucks, food directly intended for that puropse, shoes, clothes, everything that is needed by the commissary of an army—that all of these things put together do not constitute 1 per cent. of the total of our commerce. Now, is a per cent resating the 56 her cent? Is it reasonable to suppose that it is.

WEST IS FOR WILSON, SAULSBURY ASSERTS

Democratic Senatorial Committee Head Expects Gains in Upper House Too.

Senator Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee, returned yesterday from a tour of the Western States and declared that President Wilson would carry that part of the country. Not only will Mr. Wilson get the electoral votes of nearly all Western States, predicted the Delaware Senator, but the present Democratic majority in the Senate will be returned with every the Senate will be returned by prospect of gains.

"There is not one sure Republican State west of the Alleghanies," said the Senator. "I know it is usual for each season. Senator. "I know it is usual for each side to claim everything in sight, but aside from all that, I say honestly that in every Western State I visited I found the sentiment for Wilson far greater than for Mr. Hughes. I have no hesitation whatever in claiming a majority of the Western States, even including Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico. Ten days ago I conceded Minnesota to the Republicans, but after my last visit I actually believe that State will be found in the Democratic column.

"You people here in New York ought to wake up," he continued. "Manhattan Island is no longer the entire United States. I tell you, if New York doesn't get on the job and throw away its crutches—and I believe it will—it will wake up after election to find theelf in the same position that Philadelphia has so long held in the joke books."

After a talk with Chalrman McCormick and an interview with the director of the publicity bureau, a tabulation of States was issued showing, according to States was issued showing, according to Democratic calculations, thirty-two States that at present are "certain" for Wilson. It was also explained that many other States, including Ohio, California, Pennsylvania and even Illinois, are ning materials produced in this country

"tight," with a chance they will swing to Wilson. Here are the States claimed by the Democrats:

Alabama, Arisona, Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Missismippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Okiahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The Democratic National Committee expects to mane just before November 7 a more detailed statement of what they expect to happen on election day, Chairman McCormick joined in a general laugh when it was suggested that the Democrats at least ought to leave a few States for the Republicans.

"You can't stop the sweep," he said.

"You can't stop the sweep," he said.
"Tou can't stop the sweep," he said.
"The Republicans are playing their last card. The 'Onward, Christian Soldier' crowd has taken a back seat, and the 'Hail, hall, the gang's all sere' boys have come to the front, because they know how to throw a bluff and the others den't."

Harris Claims This State.

Edwin S. Harris, Democratic State Chairman of New York, added to the gaiety by asserting that all hope that the Republicans may have had of Mr. Hughes carrying this State had faded. "The only way Mughes can carry the State," said Chairman Harris, "is by carrying New York city—and it looks as though he will come within 150,000 of doing that.

William H. Riley, Democratic chair-man of Broome county, informed Chair-man Harris that Democratic sentiment is strong in the up-State Republican dis-

"The whole southern tier is on fire for Wilson," asserted Riley. "It's al-most unbelievable. Broome, with a nor-mal Republican majority of from 5,000 to 7,000, is sure to go to Wilson. Che-mung, Tompkins, Jefferson and Steuben counties are also sure, while it is an even break in Schuyler and Otsego. the rest of the State goes the way southern tier goes Wilson will carry State by 100,000."

Why the "Chicago News" Bolts President Wilson

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.-The Chicago Daily News editorially withdrew its support from President Wilson today. After stating that the News had urged the selection of Mr. Wilson before the Democratic convention four years ago and had also actively supported him in the campaign, the News says:

things by personal standards which are subject to no modifications other than those resulting from his confirmed policy of opportunism.

"'Do the easiest thing and make a virtue of it," might be the accepted motto of this eminently plausible President. Having no real advisers and no Cabinet except in name—this was made clear by the resignation of Secretary Garrison—he has felt free to follow his own inclinations at all times.

"It was in his method of dealing with the strike threat of the railroad brotherhoods that President Wilson most clearly disclosed his policy of government. That perilous policy of following the line of least resistance is shown here in its perfection.

"The President employed an easy method of projecting a present difficulty into the future and of gaining profitable friendships for himself while sowing a crop of dragons' teeth for his country, whose interests he was set to guard. This appalling display of unscrupulousness illuminated like a searchlight the character and thought processes of the chief magistrate of the nation. The American people should take warning from the painful exposure.

"In the opinion of the Daily News the safety of the nation and the integrity of its institutions cannot wisely be entrusted to President Wilson for another term."
